

Coast Guard Highlights HC-130J Mission Capabilities At Patuxent River Air Show

The Coast Guard displayed its HC-130J Super Hercules Minotaur prototype at the Naval Air Station Patuxent River, Maryland, annual air show Oct. 29-30, 2016. The maintenance team spent two days preparing the aircraft and opened the cargo ramp for visitor access. The Coast Guard resumed its requirements verification test flights for the aircraft's Minotaur mission system architecture upgrade Nov. 1, 2016. These test flights are ongoing. U.S. Coast Guard photo.
