

DHS Leader Development Learning Café

Have you ever wondered what it means to be politically savvy? Do you want to learn best practices on how to develop and leverage your political savvy? If so, join us as we explore: Political Savvy - What IT is and How do I get it?

Political Savvy is one of the eight competencies included in the annual requirements for seasoned supervisory leaders under the DHS Leader Development Program.

- Conflict Management
- Developing Others
- Financial Management
- Human Capital Management
- Oral Communication
- Performance Management
- Political Savvy, and
- Engagement and Morale

All supervisors, managers, and executives are required to complete a minimum of 12 hours of Continuous Leader Development annually, which includes at a minimum, one hour of development in performance management and one hour in engagement and morale. The remaining 10 hours of development may be in any of the following competencies listed above. Participation counts towards 1 hour of Continuous Leader Development.
