On June 1st, we welcomed another retired Commandant to our ranks. Admiral Paul Zukunft was relieved by Admiral Karl Shultz at a ceremony that included the President, Vice President, Secretary of Homeland Security, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs and many other notable and strong supporters of our Coast Guard. Admiral Zukunft and his wife, Fran, are planning to relocate to Honolulu, Hawaii. Admiral Zukunft was a strong supporter of the Retiree Services Program and we look forward to briefing the new Commandant on the enduring value of the program and the continuing contributions of our retirees.

On 24-25 April 2018 we conducted a very productive annual Coast Guard National Retiree Council Meeting at Headquarters in Washington, D.C. The Commandant, VADM Sandy Stosz (Deputy Commandant for Mission Support), RDML Bill Kelly (Assistant Commandant for Human Resources), RDML Scott McKinley (Director of Military and Reserve Personnel) took time out of their busy schedules to spend a few minutes updating us on their priorities and equally important, listening to your concerns through your Regional Retiree Council (RRC) representatives. We spent two very full days discussing a number of priorities for the Retiree Services Program and addressing your concerns. We expect to continue our work this summer by incorporating our discussions and decisions into updates of the Communication Strategy, the RRC Framework and communication products like the newsletter, an informational tri-fold brochure and existing guides and references. All of this work is in support of the new Commandant’s Instruction for the Retiree Services Program (CI 1800.5H). Your national council also addressed other concerns like very long delays in VA Concurrent Retirement and Disability claim processing and recent guidance on Lead/Asbestos exposure. We will continue to share these products and other important information on the RSP website, www.dcms.uscg.mil/retiree. We welcome your input on all. We recognize that the most important feedback we receive is from you. Your national council is committed to finding better ways to hear from you. Finally, the fastest and easiest way to get information to you and hear your input is electronically. Please consider signing on to Global Pay Self-Service (as described to the left) and providing your email address, if you have not already done so. Improving this newsletter, our web page, social media content and other communication methods will continue to be our focus.

We look forward to sharing our progress in the next newsletter and on our website.

RULING COULD EXTEND DISABILITY BENEFITS TO THOUSANDS IN PAIN

Thousands of veterans previously denied disability benefits for pain issues related to military service may now be eligible for assistance, thanks to a federal court ruling this week. On 4 APR, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit overturned a 19-year-old precedent used in more than 11,000 VA claims denials that stated veterans had to have a clear medical diagnosis connected to their pain in order to be eligible for those disability payouts. Advocates said the ruling could be life-changing for individuals who are unable to work because of service-connected injuries but excluded from veterans assistance because of medical technicalities. The court challenge, which was brought by NVLSP, involved Army veteran Melba Saunders, who served in first Gulf War. She injured her knees during her seven years in service, a fact that military doctors noted in her files without determining a specific medical diagnosis of the issue. When she left the service and applied for veterans' disability benefits, her claim was denied. VA officials acknowledged the problem stemmed from her time in service but the Board of Veterans' Appeals cited a 1999 Veterans Court decision which held that "pain alone is not a disability for the purpose of VA disability compensation." The new court ruling erases that precedent, at least for now. Veterans still need to show a clear connection between their pain and their military service to be eligible but would no longer have to have a specific medical reason for the pain to apply for benefits. VA officials can appeal the decision, although it's unclear if they will do so. In a statement, Saunders' lawyer, Mel Bostwick, called the court case "a significant victory for disabled veterans" and a long-overdue correction in VA policy. "Congress recognized that the nation owes these veterans for their sacrifices, and the court today vindicated the common-sense notion that this debt does not depend on whether a veteran's disabling pain can be labeled with a specific medical diagnosis," she said. Stichman said veterans who have previously been rejected for disability benefits — or who have avoided applying in the past because they assumed they would not be eligible — should now reapply to see if the new ruling will allow them to qualify. "We just don't know how many veterans this could affect," he said. "We know the Board of Veterans Appeals has cited this precedent in more than 11,000 cases. But we don't know about all the other veterans who never even applied." Source: [Marine Corps Times | Leo Shane III | Apr 16, 2018]

CAREGIVERS: Caregivers need time for themselves, especially because the round-the-clock task of caregiving can be isolating. Respite care can be rejuvenating for both caregivers and care recipients, but implementing it can be stressful. The free course from PsychArmor Institute, sponsored by USAA, can help you understand the advantages and disadvantages of in-home care vs out-of-home care, as well as different services available for both, in less than 15 minutes. This course will guide you through financial resources that are available for your family. <https://psycharmor.org/courses/abcs-res>. CONSUMER PROTECTION: The FTC's Bureau of Consumer Protection works to "stop unfair, deceptive and fraudulent business practices by collecting complaints and conducting investigations, suing companies and people that break the law, developing rules to maintain a fair marketplace, and educating consumers and businesses about their rights and responsibilities." ### HAPPY COAST GUARD DAY AUGUST 4, 2018

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWMENT

Captain Robert Warakomsky, USCG (Ret.) and his wife, Patricia, have established the Captain Robert Warakomsky, USCG (Ret.) and Mrs. Patricia Warakomsky Music Scholarship Endowment to benefit the School of Music at George Mason University. The intent of this gift is to provide scholarships for Music students whose talents merit celebration and nurture. The Warakomskys seek to provide opportunities for music students to convey their gratitude for, and appreciation of, the caliber of the School of Music.

Bob's professional engineering career encompassed two careers: one as a Coast Guard Officer, retiring after 25 years of service; the other in the business world for three different companies, and retiring again after 27 more working years.

The Warakomskys came to know George Mason University through their attendance of performances at the Center for the Arts beginning in 2000. They became actively engaged in the life of the music community through volunteer leadership service with the Friends of the Center for the Arts, the Friends of Music at Mason, and other arts-related organizations. Robert's exemplary service as the President of the Friends of Music led to increased membership and scholarship awards.

The Warakomsky's were honored with a Musicales on March 19, 2018 in Mason's Center for the Art to recognize their generous gift to the School of Music. The Musicales included several student performances of classical music, a favorite of the Warakomskys, and remarks by President Ángel Cabrera; Rick Davis, Dean of the College of Visual and Performing Arts; Dr. Linda Monson, Director of the School of Art; Bob Warakomsky, and Barbara Jacksier, President, Friends of Music at Mason. The Warakomskys were presented with a plaque to thank them for this significant gift. Among the guests in attendance were Christine Blasser, widow of USPHS medical doctor, VADM Robert Nelson, RADM and Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, and CAPT and Mrs. Bruce Lauther.
